

Saga

To The Class of 1990

When the yearbook staff got together, we tried to come up with a theme that would best reflect Bloomfield College as well as College life in general.

After considering many possibilities, we came up with the idea, "Be a part from the start." This struck us as appropriate since Bloomfield College is a close-knit community because of its size. At B.C. you are not a number; you are recognized as a person, an individual who is supported by our caring faculty and considerate staff. To us, being a part from the start entails being able to reach our goals because of the opportunities available at Bloomfield College, which you, the Class of 1990, learned throughout the years.

The Saga staff hopes you will enjoy this yearbook and wishes you the best of luck.

Yours sincerely,

Donna Taddei

BE A P A R T

FROM THE START

Be A Part From The Start

When we came to Bloomfield College, we had a choice — to be involved or not. From the start, we recognized ourselves as individuals and as part of the Bloomfield College Community. From the start, we realized that Bloomfield College was our shot at success. Our friendships, learning experiences and involvement in activities united us. We became a part of the College because we took part in the College.

The pride we took in ourselves and in the College strengthened us mentally and emotionally. Taking part meant putting ourselves entirely into work and our surroundings — from the start. Together, we turned the dreams we had for our lives into reality. We became a part of Bloomfield College, and now it is a part of us.

The theme of the 1990 Bloomfield College Yearbook, "Be A Part From The Start," is indicative of my association with Bloomfield College. I have been a part of the nursing program since its start in 1968 and am very proud of the respect and reputation that the Division of Nursing has achieved. The establishment of the Presbyterian Division of Nursing was the culmination of a dream that Dr. Theodore Rath, President of Bloomfield College from 1960-1969 and I shared. He wanted Nursing at Bloomfield College in order to increase learning opportunities for students and to extend the mission of the College. I wanted it to provide an educational environment which would more effectively prepare nurses for professional nursing practice. The Division of Nursing has tried to be worthy of your respect and feels that honor has been brought to Bloomfield College by the contributions that our graduates have made to the delivery of quality health care.

It has been a joy and a privilege to be the Chairperson of the Presbyterian Division of Nursing and to foster its growth and development. Certainly my association with a very dedicated and innovative faculty has contributed to this pleasure, as well as seeing our students grow in the profession. Each year has brought new challenges, new opportunities for service and rewards beyond measure. I sincerely thank everyone for the many kindnesses accorded me over the years. I dearly love our Division of Nursing, Bloomfield College and all who are associated with it and I wish God's richest blessing on your future endeavors.

Frances M. McLaughlin, M.A., R.N.
Chairperson
Presbyterian Division of Nursing

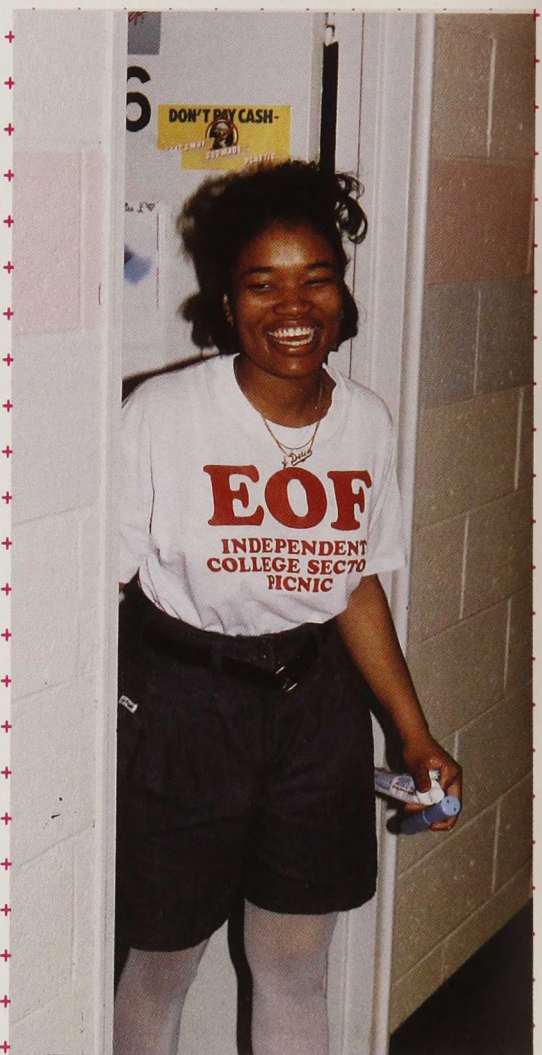

DEDICATION

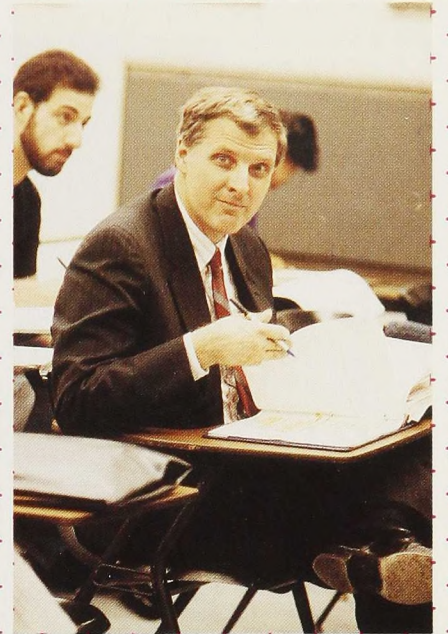

When asked why she became a nurse, Frances McLaughlin said she made her decision when a high school friend told her the qualities needed to be a good nurse: human kindness and compassion.

If that's the case, then no chairperson of nursing could lay claim to better qualifications than Fran McLaughlin. Throughout her 22-year career at Bloomfield College, Fran has shown deep caring for her students, understanding for her colleagues, and a sparkling sense of humor toward all around her.

As Fran McLaughlin begins her retirement, we are aware of how much she has brought to Bloomfield from the very start of her career. She has encouraged and prodded the students in Bloomfield's Presbyterian Division of Nursing to accomplish their best work and express the best in their character. She has been an outstanding part of Bloomfield College, and can take great pride in helping shape its future.

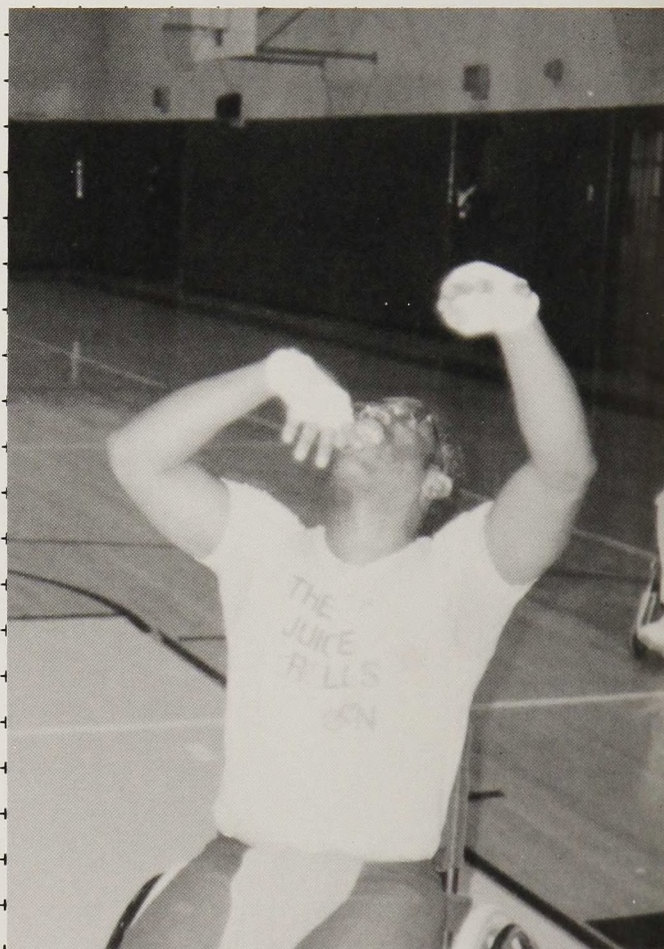

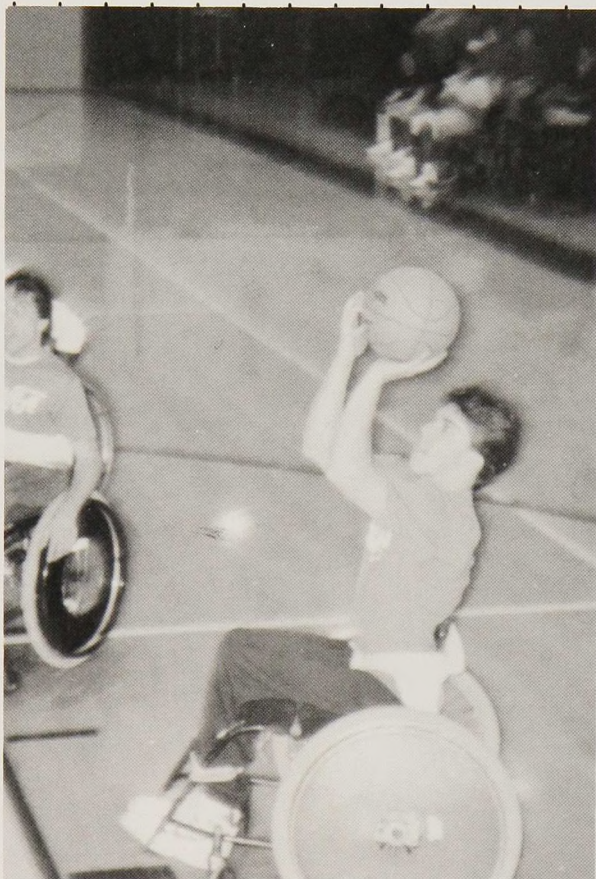

Good Luck, Fran!

WOMEN'S BASKETBALL

After a 26-3 season in 1988-89, Head Coach Don Manfria knew it would be difficult to repeat that record this past year. Yet the fourth-year head coach was able to motivate his players and finish the 1989-90 campaign with a respectable 19-9 record. As it was two years ago, the Lady Deacons were led by now-sophomore Dana Morton. The 5'6" guard from Bloomfield was probably the most feared by opponents as she averaged 18.9 points per game and 6.3 assists per game.

Morton, who was the team's MVP for the second straight year, was named to the All-District 31 team, All-CACC team and New Jersey College Basketball Coaches' All-Star team.

"Each team we played this year knew everything about Dana and couldn't really shut her down," said Manfria. "She was able to make things happen even without the ball, which caused opponents to go crazy."

Joining Morton in the backcourt this past season was sophomore Lori Vega. Vega averaged 7.4 ppg, and was second on the team with 4.2 assists per game.

Junior Carli Mitchell returned to her center position and led the team in rebounding, 12.8 rebounds per game.

Sophomore Deanna Yates had a very productive season, averaging 9.3 ppg and being named Holy Family Womens' Tournament MVP. Other returning players who contributed to the Lady Deacons' successful season were Michelle Ruddock (3.1 ppg) and Carolann Din (6.9 ppg).

Several newcomers were added to the roster: Melanie Bera, Sandra Cuminsky, Delencia Scott, Michelle Vazquez, Sue Robinson and Dawn Williams.

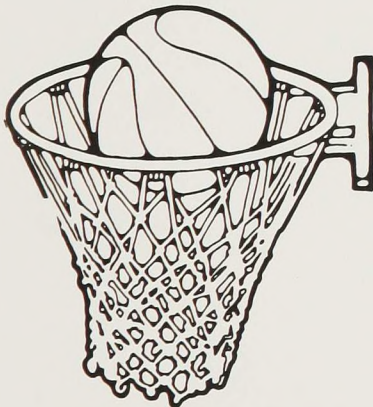

As a team, the Lady Deacons dominated in almost every category, holding opponents to under 67.1 points per game, outscoring opponents by 11.1 ppg, and outrebounding them by 13.4 boards per game.

"It was a very good year considering we had some new faces on the team," said Manfria. "Next year will be fun, having some players who have registered some prime game time."

MEN'S BASKETBALL

The Deacons' basketball season was rather disappointing with a 7-20 record. Head Coach Bruce Gallagher expected to struggle in the early part of the 1989-90 season, but come together once several transfers became eligible.

Heading the list of transfers who made an immediate impact was Mark Tellechea. The 6'7" junior transfer from Liberty University was named the team's MVP while averaging 13.4 ppg and 8.4 rebounds per game. Tellechea accomplished these marks while appearing in only 15 games.

"Mark is a very dedicated athlete," said Gallagher. "He is willing to work hard at all times and will do almost anything you ask of him." Another junior transfer was Paul Oshust. He averaged 9.8 ppg and was second on the team in rebounding, 7.9 ppg.

A newcomer who made a significant contribution was Tony Serle (5.1 ppg).

Even though Gallagher looked to the "new faces" for instant support, top returners, Alfonso Milsap (8.6 ppg), Mark Lighten (5.6 ppg), and Rason Jacobs (4.8 ppg) played key roles.

BASEBALL

Front Row: A. Fazzani, A. Dill, D. Marchall, A. Castro, M. Maione, C. Restano. Row 2: D. Bua, D. Backo, K. Richert, A. Glueck, T. Tawpash, G. Federico. Row 3: C. DiMasi, B. Shortino, M. DiBiase, R. Sasso, M. D'Amato. Row 4: G. Scarnaty, K. Kemp, J. Columna, M. Wright, F. Moran and T. Trapasso.

This past season the Deacons baseball squad, which finished with a 13-17 record, was led by a quartet of four-year letter winners: Frank Moran, Mike Whritenour, Gary Federico and Mark Wright.

Moran handled the catching chores and hit .280. Whritenour, who was the team's ace reliever, notched four saves and hit .357. Federico, also a pitcher, played outfield and hit .351 to earn All-CACC honors. Early season All-American candidate Mark Wright hit .303 and led the team with six homeruns.

Junior third baseman Matt D'Amato was named the team's MVP, leading the team in hitting (.373), hits (42) and RBI's (24). Also in the infield were shortstop Jose Columna and first baseman transfer Carl DiMasi, who was named N.J. Player of the Week during the season.

Assisting Federico in the outfield were former N.J. All-Stater Kerry Rickert and Dave Backo, another N.J. Player of the Week recipient, who led the team with 13 stolen bases.

The pitching staff was led by Rob Sasso (5-2, 2.67 ERA) and Mark Maione (4-3, 3.97 ERA). Other mound aces were Tom Trapasso, Kevin Kemp, Bryan Shortino and Gerry Scarnaty.

"Our pitching was sharp this season," said Head Coach Al Restaino Jr. "As a team we didn't support our hurlers, and came up short in some games. We did a lot of good things, but let up at certain times, which cost us a game or two."

Other members of the 1990 Deacons: catcher Mike DiBiase, infielder Andy Castro, and outfielders Doug Marshall, Tom Tawpash and Andy Glueck.

Superfly catch!

Under the direction of new Head Coach Roland Gagne, the Bloomfield College lacrosse team started the season with a 6-0 mark. The Deacons posted big wins against Stevens Tech, Kean College JV and Trenton State College. The team also displayed poise and confidence with close and overtime victories over Westchester Community College, Rockland Community College and Dowling College. After a two week layoff due to poor weather, the team traveled to Dover, Delaware, to take on a tough Wesley College club. The four hour ride and a well-skilled Wesley team proved to be too much for the Deacons to handle, as they dropped their first game of the season. After several other postponements, the team dropped the final two ball games to very tough squads from Fairfield University and Queens College.

The bulk of the team scoring was provided by sophomores John Jez and Brian Maher. The midfield position was bolstered by the play of sophomore David Gigante and freshman Kyle Stevens. Defensively, the Deacons were led by junior Jim Cunningham. A key addition to the squad was the play of freshman goalie Frank Hoffman. A special note of thanks to Assistant Coaches Douglas Morton and Salvatore Veneziano for all their work. With a young squad returning, Coach Gagne looks to build upon an already successful program.

What else can you say about an athletic program that finds ways to win the big game, capture district tournament championships and travel to the NAIA Women's Softball National Tournament on a consistent basis? Not much, except "Don't slow down now!"

The women's softball program, coached by Nancy Bottge, finished the 1990 season with a 26-9 record, the District 31 championship and was in Florida at the Nationals at press time.

"We did the little things this year that made a big difference," said Bottge. "We didn't have the dominating team that we did last year when we finished sixth nationally. The key this year was our solid all-around play and pitching."

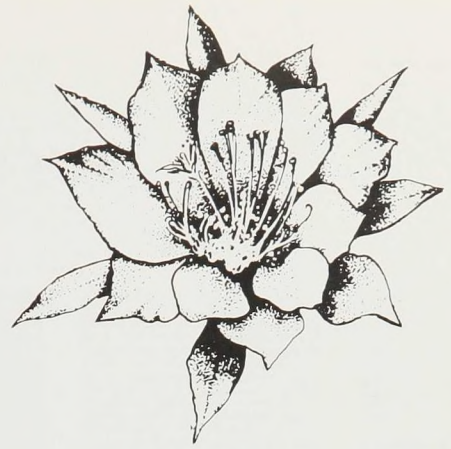

The Lady Deacons were blessed with two solid pitchers who have been nominated for All-American, senior Lisa Murray and sophomore Pam Koller.

Murray, a former Division I standout at Oklahoma State, headed into the Nationals with a 16-3 record and 1.15 ERA. At the plate, Murray was equally impressive, hitting .340. Koller, last season's freshman sensation, added a 10-5 record and 1.60 ERA. Senior Patty Murphy, the infield anchor at second base, has also appeared on several All-American ballots and played a significant role in this team's development throughout the season.

Murphy, according to Bottge, is the "complete player." She batted .429, had a .645 slugging percentage and added a .595 on base percentage.

The fourth and final All-American nomination was catcher Dawn Daura, who hit .296. Backing Daura up was freshman Dawn Williams.

Many thanks to Dot Torres for her caring support of the yearbook staff.

SELMA M. WALROND-CATO: Thanks to all my friends and family for inspiring me.

STEVEN WEST: Mom, Dad, and Gram, I love you! I'll miss you guys at Zeta. Carry on the tradition and good luck! Thanks for the memories: M.W., R.D., D.G., J.P., B. and K.M., L.P. and J.C.

PERCY JEROME WHITE: Thank you for giving me the support and confidence I needed.

MICHAEL A. WHRITENOUR: My love and thanks always to Dad, Mom & Cindi. To Zeta Phi Epsilon, carry on the tradition. "Possum," thanks for the memories. To J.P., A.C., S.W., D.G., D.M., L.P. and mostly to C.R.

DOROTHY A. WRIGHT: No matter what you do, always do your best.

MILDRED M. BERRIOS: Thanks, Mom, Dad, and Eddie, for all of your support and love. I wouldn't have made it without you. Love you . . .

ANGELIQUE V. BROWN: "Hold fast to dreams, For if dreams die, Life is a broken-winged bird that cannot fly." —
Langston Hughes, 1932

MICHELE KAREN AMSTUTZ: Thanks to Mom & Dad for your unrelenting love, support, and encouragement. Special thanks to Sal who believed in me always, and Peter and Andrew who showed me the way.

SHARON CARR: Thanks Mom and Dad for not giving up. Thanks for all your love and support.

DARVIN BETHEA: To Mom and Dad: Thanks for giving me the support that was needed to make it through college. I couldn't have done it without you!

MARIE K. DEMOSTHENES: "Destined for greatness"

MARIA MONGILLO: I wouldn't have made it without you. Thanks, Mom and Dad.

ROSEMARY MCCARTHY: Whatever is worth doing at all, is worth doing well.

PAULINE MARTINEZ: "Likes to play record background for the hidden meanings . . . Determined and challenging."
Thank you Lord for a Mom like mine . . . my strength.

THERESA D. MARSH: Knowledge is King and dreams do come true if you make them.

ALISA KOCH: Congratulations to my fellow graduates of 1990. We made it!

ROSEMARY KING: Thank you Sabbiyah for being a good girl, and letting me complete this task.

TAMMY L. JORDAN: Mom, thank you for helping me get through all those long nights of frustration.

SAM JOHNSON: Thank you God for keeping me strong all through my college years and also to my Mom for her encouragement, and the rest of my family. God loves you all and so do I.

CATHERINE ANNE JOHNSON: Thank you family, friends and God for the unlimited amount of support that you've given me!

MARVIN L. HILTON: To all the future Afro-American graduates of B.C. "Keep striving."

TREVOR GRAVESANDE: I couldn't have made it without my mother and my sister's support. Thank you.

CORALIE H. GRAHAM: I would like to thank my Mom for her support during my rough times in school. Thanks again.

SIMPLICIO R. GARCES: Special thanks to my family for their support.

GALE FRANKLE: Yesterday, today was tomorrow. Tomorrow, today will be yesterday.

JANICE DIANE FARRELL: To Mom and Dad, thank you for your support. You are really the wind beneath my wings.

TRACEY ELAINE ENNIS: To Mom, Dad and Lafayette: Thank you. To my son Kenneth, I love you.

LAURA E. ENGLISH: "Grant me the strength to accept the things I cannot change, and the wisdom to change the things I can."

JOSEPH DEGREGORIO: Thanks for your support, Dina. I couldn't have done it without you. I love you.

AUDRA COLEMAN: Thanks to all of those who supported me throughout these years. I sincerely thank you, Mom and Dad.

You shouldn't argue with the chef.

Paula Laks and Steve West have fun at the picnic.

Senior Picnic

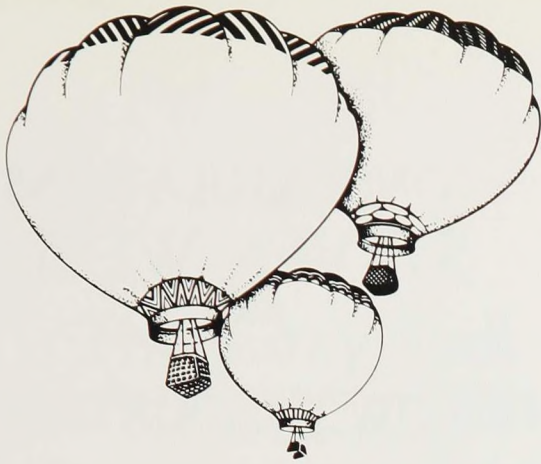

Seniors have a chance to relax and enjoy themselves.

Only non-academic conversation, please.
